TIPS:
- Though these headings can be optional, data will not appear in the Game Page if the HINT and EXTRA HEADINGS if these are left blank.
- 'Accept last word in answers' is useful for games where you want people to guess names. For example, if Brad Pitt is in the data, entering Pitt will give you the answer with this option checked.
- Try to keep your headings small and concise.
- The Game Name is what shows up on your contributed tab (or on the home page if published on Sporcle.com). For aesthetic purposes, it is best if this is only 2-3 words in length.
- Use the Source field as much as possible. The best and most reliable games generally have a credible source. Generally, wikipedia is not considered a reliable source.
- The Public Game Link cannot be changed once a game is contributed. Please keep this short and sweet but informative as well.
